

ACTIVITY GUIDE

Episode 313: Mystery Words and Responsible Decisions

Book: What Were You Thinking? By Bryan Smith

Scan below to watch lesson

Read It

When I got home the other day, my house smelled SO good! I walked into the kitchen and saw that my mom had made a cake. Yum! I looked around... I didn't see anyone... so I took just a *tiny* bite. And then another, and then another. Oops! Half the cake was gone! And... ooooooh... I had a tummy ache. My mom walked in and was so mad! I told her it wasn't me. Of course she didn't believe me, so I had to spend my whole afternoon helping my mom make a cake, instead of playing soccer with my friends.

Words to Know

character - the person in the story action - is something you do

Transition Words

Transition means to change or move from one thing to another. Transition words help us understand a change. For example, changing from talking about the cause to the effect.

as a result,
then,
so,
therefore,

ACTIVITY GUIDE

Episode 313: Mystery Words and Responsible Decisions

Book: What Were You Thinking? by Bryan Smith

Scan below to watch lesson

Write It

Use the story on the previous page to fill in the T-Chart.

Character's actions	What happens because of those actions