Read It

Read the story out loud. Use what you know about the /aw/ sound to read the underlined words.

Paul's Dream

Paul and his family decided to sit on the lawn and look at the sky. It was dawn and they watched the sunrise. Then they saw the sky change colors. Paul wondered what it was like beyond the sky and exclaimed, "One day I am going to be an astronaut and launch in a rocket into outer space!"

His family applauded Paul and told him, "That is an awesome idea!" He got so excited that he ran inside to grab some paper and crayons, and then began to draw his very own rocket ship. Paul drew until he was exhausted. He let out a big yawn and took a nap to dream some more.

The /aw/ sound written as au will usually be at the beginning or in the middle of a word like in auto or pause. The /aw/ sound written as aw can be found in the beginning, middle or end of a word like in awful or lawn or claw.
