EPISODE 101: MICHIGAN COMMERCE

Timelines show us the order in which events happen. They can also help us remember important details of those events.

Create a timeline of your life using the blank timeline on the next page. Write an important moment on each line. Add details that you would like to remember about each event. Use the example below to help you.

Once you complete your timeline, share it with someone. What do they find to be the most interesting event on your timeline?
