

MINI RESEARCH PROJECT

ACTIVITY GUIDE

EPISODE 110: CHANGING PLACES

When researching a topic, start by creating a list of questions to help you learn more information. Asking Who, What, When, Where and Why questions is a great way to get started. If your topic was Michigan's State Capitol Building in Lansing, what questions could you use? Check out examples below and then write your own.

Who

Who works at the State Capitol Building in Lansing, Michigan?

What

What was used to construct the Capitol Building?

When

When was the Capitol Building built?

Where

Where is Lansing, Michigan?

Why

Why is the State Capitol Building in Lansing?
